

Will a new Zivojno mine prevent North Macedonia from achieving a timely coal phase-out?

However, reality is not following the NECP. According to the state owned electricity company ESM's 5-year investment plan 2018-2022, the commissioning of a new Zivojno mine could extend the coal supply to TPP Bitola for another ~10.6 years. This would obviously prevent North Macedonia from achieving a timely coal phase-out.
