

I have a 2022 M3 with LFP and 2020 MY with NCA. They are both great. LFP: ~5% loss in 2 years, 27k miles NCA: ~9% loss in 4 years, 68k miles I do like being to regularly charge my LFP to 100% and still having regen. I didn't bother paying for teslafi on my M3, but the data on my MY is interesting. View attachment 1048571

That will get restored as the battery pack heats up. Short trips have a bigger impact on range than long trips, due to the need to heat the cabin up from cold on each trip (that energy comes from the battery pack, leaving you with less available energy for driving). The impact on range scales pretty closely with a decrease in temperature.
