

How do you fix a rusted door frame? Repairs and rust protection are necessary to extend the life of your door frame. Brush away rust with a wire brush. If the rusted area is large, attach a wire ...

The only way to fix rust like that is cut it all out and replace with new metal. U can get maybe a few years out of the old door by sanding rust away and priming with a rust encapsulator and ...

It probably is not a solid rock, but rather some rock and soil that helped the casing to corrode so much. You could put a smaller casing within existing one, but most well drillers recommend at ...
