

What is the 14th Five-Year Plan (FYP)?

The 14th five-year plan (FYP), covering the years 2021 to 2025, was officially endorsed by the National People's Congress (NPC) on 11 March 2021. The Plan is divided into 19 sections and 65 chapters, touching on all aspects of development over the next five years, as well as presenting China's 2035 vision.

What is a five year plan?

A five year plan, or FYP, is a comprehensive policy blueprint released by China every five years to guide its overall economic and social development. The system was first used by the Soviet Union in 1928 under Stalin's rule and later adopted by the Communist Party of China to set out economic quotas for a newly founded People's Republic of China.

How does the 14th five-year plan differ from previous five-year plans?

The 14th Five-Year Plan differs from past plans in that it also includes a short section on "long-range objectives" for 2035. Note that although this document is an "outline," the PRC government has labeled the longest and most authoritative full versions of previous five-year plans it released as "outlines" as well.

Who is involved in the formulation of the 14th five-year plan?

The highest level of leadership is involved in the formulation of the 14th Five-Year Plan. Even President Xi Jinping has held frequent symposiums on various fields in many big cities in China.

What do you think about China's 14th five-year plan?

Based on China's past achievements and experience, I am optimistic about the designs of the 14th Five-Year Plan. China is a very mature state and possesses all prerequisites to lead the global economy and stability. It is expected that the 14th Five-Year Plan will cater to all possible aspects of future needs.

What is the 14th five-year plan of India?

The 14th Five-Year Plan draws all efforts and close cooperation among stakeholders. People from all social sectors of life were involved in conducting in-depth deliberations. The process took about a year. The plan considers the interests and demands of the entire country, various industries, regions, and institutions.

At this week's two sessions, the NPC reviewed and approved the "outline for the 14th five year plan for economic and social development and long-range objectives through the year 2035" (shortened as "outline"), which ...

the 14th FYP and China's long-term economic policy out to 2035. Unusually, the proposal does not include specific economic growth targets. However, it does provide more details Chinese ...

Review the big ideas of the 14th Amendment. There are multiple parts to the 14th Amendment. Focus on Sections 1 and 5. As background, watch Eric Foner on the Origins and Meaning of ...

At this week's two sessions, the NPC reviewed and approved the "outline for the 14th five year plan for economic and social development and long-range objectives through ...

The following document is China's 14th Five-Year Plan, covering the years 2021-2025, as passed by the Chinese parliament, the National People's Congress, in March 2021. Although the Five-Year Plan contains ...

2021 marks a special year in which China will achieve a moderately prosperous society, celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Communist Party of China and kick off its 14th Five- Year Plan ...

The 14th Five-Year Plan, officially the 14th Five-Year Plan for Economic and Social Development and Long-range Objectives Through the Year 2035 of the People's Republic of China, is a set of Chinese economic development goals designed to strengthen the national economy between 2021 and 2025. It was drafted during the fifth plenum of the 19th Central Committee of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) held from 26 to 29 October 2020.